

SOUTHERN INDIANA DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY SERVICES

PROGRAM OVERVIEW Comprised of a network of 11 neighborhood-based homes, community-based services and in-home care, the Southern Indiana Developmental Disability Services Program provides quality in-home and non-residential support for individuals with developmental disabilities in Clark and Floyd counties. Those who are able are encouraged to become involved in their communities, which is made possible through Volunteers of America's in-home support staff, supportive employment and other specialized services. Services include health care coordination, transportation and around-the-clock care.

To receive services, individuals must be approved for Developmental Disabilities Waiver Program through the Indiana Bureau of Developmental Disabilities.

CLIENT SATISFACTION

- 100% of family members or guardians surveyed said they were satisfied or extremely satisfied
- 100% of family members or guardians said their family member benefited from the program

YEAR ESTABLISHED 2003

FY 2018 BUDGET $3,295,699

PEOPLE SERVED 58

2676 Charlestown Road, Suite #11
New Albany, IN 47150
(812) 944-5213

Contact:
Amanda Kincaid
Administrative Director
Southern Indiana Disability Services
AmandaK@voamid.org

www.voamid.org

